

Your helpful life insurance guide: The basics

When it comes to life insurance, you may need help when it comes to making an informed decision.

At Amica, we believe helpfulness is what life is all about. With that in mind, we've created this guide that'll make understanding and navigating the world of life insurance much easier for you.

What is life insurance?

Life insurance is a contract you purchase to help ensure you can leave your family a sum of money, which will help them cover any expenses, should you unexpectedly pass away.

You choose the amount of coverage based on your family's needs, assets and future goals. This money could be used to pay for things like your final expenses, the mortgage, debts, daily expenses, future education expenses and more.

Why do you need life insurance?

People need life insurance for many different reasons during their lifetimes, but the most common is this: To help protect your family from financial burden if you unexpectedly pass away.

The greatest benefit of having life insurance is the peace of mind you'll gain knowing that you've helped protect your family's financial security in case you're no longer there to support them. The last thing in the world you would want is for a loved one to have to bear a financial burden in addition to the emotional impact of your loss.

With life insurance, you can be confident knowing your loved ones can have help with things like:

- Paying for your final expenses
- Paying the mortgage to help keep them in their home
- Paying for your children's care and education
- Paying for everyday expenses to maintain their standard of living
- Making up for your lost income
- Paying credit card debt or medical bills
- Many other expenses

Types of life insurance

THERE ARE TWO BASIC TYPES OF LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES:

1 TERM LIFE INSURANCE:
Coverage designed to help provide protection for a specific amount of time, typically 10, 15, 20, 25 or 30 years. It can be used to help cover temporary needs, like a mortgage, education or income replacement. The rate and coverage amount stay the same throughout the selected period of time.

2 PERMANENT LIFE INSURANCE:
Coverage designed to help provide protection for your lifetime as long as premiums are paid. This permanent protection can help ensure you have coverage for final expenses, plus it builds cash value, giving you more options and flexibility. A common type of permanent insurance is whole life insurance.

At Amica, we can help you determine what type of life insurance is right for you by listening to your needs and understanding your financial goals. From there, we can guide you through your options and recommend a coverage amount that fits your unique needs and your budget.

An important thing to remember is that while your job may offer employer-provided life insurance, you shouldn't rely solely on this coverage. Think of this coverage as supplemental or extra because employer-provided coverage generally only provides coverage equal to one or two times your salary, and this may not address all of your coverage needs. Also, in some cases, this insurance is not transferable, so you may not be able to keep your coverage if you change or lose your job.

HELPFUL LIFE INSURANCE TERMS:

Cash value: The amount of money that accumulates in a whole life insurance policy. It typically takes at least two years to accrue and can be borrowed against, withdrawn, or used to pay future premiums. Taxes and charges may apply.

Employer-provided life insurance: A life insurance policy owned and provided by an employer that covers a group of individual employees. The life insurance policy is often provided as an employee benefit that provides coverage for one or two times the individual's annual salary and may end if the employee leaves the job or retires.

How much life insurance do you need?

Do other family members depend on you? No matter what stage of life you're in, it's important to consider several factors when determining how much life insurance you need. Do you have a mortgage to cover? A spouse and children? Other family members who depend on you?

At Amica, we offer a comprehensive life insurance needs calculator you can use to find out exactly how much coverage is right for you in just a few easy steps. You can find this calculator by visiting PathwaysbyAmica.com/needs-calculator or PathwaysbyAmica.com and clicking "Get Started."

THE INFORMATION BELOW INCLUDES IMPORTANT THINGS TO CONSIDER WHEN DETERMINING THE COVERAGE AMOUNT BEST SUITED TO YOU AND YOUR UNIQUE NEEDS.

Match your term coverage to the term of the mortgage.

If you have a 30-year mortgage, purchasing a 30-year term policy that's equal to or more than your mortgage amount can help cover this expense if the unexpected happens.

Support any family members who may depend on you.

Whether you have aging parents or adult children, it's important to include coverage to help protect those you take care of.

Consider costs for child care, education and household services.

An important part of life insurance coverage is having enough to make sure your family can maintain their standard of living. With the right amount of coverage, you can help your family to be able to stay in their home, cover child care and household needs or even help save for college expenses.

Include coverage for final expenses.

Funerals and final expenses can be costly – having coverage in place will help to alleviate the burden on your family.

The list above is not meant to be exhaustive, as everyone has different needs to consider when determining the right amount of life insurance. It's also important to note that your life insurance needs can change over time. Make it a point to re-evaluate those needs at least every two years.

65% percent of Americans say they won't buy life insurance because they believe it's too expensive. About two-thirds say their mortgage, groceries and their electric bill are keeping them from buying some or more life insurance coverage.¹

"The truth is that the cost of life insurance has actually decreased over the past decade."

How and when to file a claim

If you have life insurance or are looking to purchase it, you might not be aware of the steps your family would need to take in the event of your passing.

Typically, when a policyholder passes away, the beneficiaries will contact the life insurance company to report the death in order to start the process of acquiring the funds from the policy. This process is called “filing a claim.”

First, some general questions about the cause and circumstances of death are asked, and then the beneficiaries need to fill out a few simple forms. Dedicated Amica representatives are available to assist and make this process as easy as possible.

You will need the insurance policy, information regarding the manner and cause of death and a certified copy of the death certificate. In some instances, we may need to obtain medical history information, including doctor’s names and medical treatments.

“It was such an enormous relief that the one piece that was so vitally important, the life insurance, was easy and I had a check in record time...in the aftermath [of my husband’s death]. This was amazing to me. It was just so easy.”

– Jenna, Amica policyholder

IF YOU HAVE A LIFE INSURANCE POLICY, HERE ARE A FEW IMPORTANT THINGS TO REMEMBER ABOUT BENEFICIARIES:

1 Make sure the beneficiaries, their addresses, Social Security numbers and other important information is up to date.

2 Be clear when naming your beneficiaries. If someone has a common name, such as John Smith, having the correct personal and contact information will ensure we can connect with that individual.

3 Discuss methods to provide funds for minors. For example, creating a trust is one way to provide funds for their benefit, or naming a custodian for the minor under a specific state's Uniform Transfers to Minors Act – since, as a general rule, we cannot legally pay proceeds directly to a minor beneficiary.

4 Tell your beneficiaries that they are named on your life insurance policy. Also, let them know the name of the company, since this will make the process easier if you pass away unexpectedly.

HELPFUL LIFE INSURANCE TERMS:

Beneficiary: After the insured dies, this person (sometimes more than one), trust, charity or other is designated to receive the payment of a life insurance policy. When the policy is first purchased, the owner typically chooses the beneficiary and can change it as desired.

Filing a claim: Process started by the insured's beneficiary(ies) with the life insurance company, in order to receive the life insurance benefits from the insured's policy after they have died.

About Amica

What real Amica customers are saying...

"I spoke with a representative at Amica and I thought she was great. She wanted to know how she could help me. She asked me questions about myself, my children and our medical history. Based on those conversations, they determined what was best for me. They asked me what I would need if something was to happen to me or to my children, what would I need to cover in terms of funeral arrangements, any bills that we may still have outstanding, and they took all of that into consideration and helped me determine the amount of life insurance I should get. She gave me different options and then helped me understand what my choice meant to me. That's great service and that's everything."

Brenda C., Quincy, MA
